

BASSMA betters life

In line with its mission to help underprivileged families reach self-sufficiency, BASSMA has supported the Sadek family through its various programs, in the hopes of bettering their lives. As part of the yearly house renovation project, the family now have a healthy, clean and positive place to call home. In addition, they have received continued care in the form of: monthly food and clothing packages, hot meals, tutoring and educational support, job placements, enrollment in summer activities as well as continuous psychological follow-up. Every contribution can make a difference in someone's life. Visit www.bassma.org to view the various programs.
